Every Time You Play, You Support Real Heroes

Introducing 1st Responder, a new line of claw machines that turns gameplay into a force for good. With every play, a portion of the revenue goes to first responder charities, helping support firefighters, police, EMTs, and rescue workers in your community or across the country.

Players feel good knowing they're giving back. Operators gain community-focused, patriotic exposure and positive local PR.

How It Works

Operators commit to donating a portion of the machine's revenue to a first responder charity of their choice.

- Choose from national or local first responder organizations
- Donations may be tax-deductible
- Simple setup with ready-to-go tools provided

What Operators Receive

- A list of approved charities or guidance on how to support local departments
- A customizable press release to send to local media
- Branded signage, including:
 - Pre-installed "This Game Supports Firefighters, Police & EMTs" sticker
 - Additional stickers with space to write in your chosen charity
 - Optional LED topper
- Recommended donation percentage to help you get started
- The option to co-brand with nearby fire or police departments

Website Features

As a participating operator, you will be featured on the 1st Responder program page at Pipeline Games, which includes:

- A map of participating locations
- A real-time donation tracker
- A photo upload tool to share donation receipts or community highlights
- Opportunities to be featured as a Top Supporter
